

Appleseeds is enlisting

in the state of emergency

In this difficult time for that state of Israel, Appleseeds is enlisting to aid in emergency operations in an attempt to aid affected populations with accessibility to different digital tools, and is hoping to cater these tools to families affected by these latest terrorism attacks, families from the south of Israel and all other areas restricted to their homes, senior citizens and holocaust survivors suffering from loneliness, welfare beneficiaries and citizens with special needs or anyone that may benefits from digital tools at this difficult time.

Additionally, our youth movement Net@, is enlisting at this time to salvage everyday routines and norms of youth, as much as possible. In time of war the organization aids, those affected, youth and children, to create a sense of stability, as well as personal and social strength. When everything around feels chaotic and unexpected, routine and consistency can create a sense of normalcy. These days there are no physical (in person) educational activities or normal educational systems, we offer virtual Net@ activities.
